ATTORNEYS WILL FIGHT BITTERLYThe Defense and Prosecution in the Bankert Case Will Have Great Battle.Both Sides are Gathering Evidence of Great Importance
For the Trial.

What will be done with Mrs. Anna Bankert? This is a question which is still being widely discussed by the people of this city, and opinions are divided as to the outcome of the famous murder trial. It is now believed by some that Mrs. Bankert did kill Norman Cook and the only question which remains is whether or not she was justified in doing so.

The prosecution will try to prove that Norman Cook met Mrs. Bankert on the evening of the murder by appointment, while on the other side, the defense will enter testimony during trial, which will insinuate that Norman Cook had no right in the Bankert house, and that he placed himself in the hands of the law when he thus trespassed upon the property of others.

It is expected that the prosecutor will endeavor to show that the stories told by the members of the Bankert family do not coincide, and it is thought that the conflicting statements as to Cook securing the razor and Mrs. Bankert's story of obtaining the lamp will be the principal points which will be used by the prosecution to discredit the statements of the family.

While on the other side Mrs. Bankert says, "Cook had never insulted me before," and she claims that Mr. Bankert said to her several times not to kill Cook. By these statements the defense expects to prove that Mr. Bankert did not have anything to do with the murder, and that Cook had not been in the habit of calling at the Bankert home, while Mr. Bankert and others members of the family were absent.

It is known by people in Henry and Franklin counties that Norman Cook was a bad character, and that he had been arrested many times for public intoxication, for disturbing the peace and even for theft and larceny. But it is said that the prosecutor will endeavor to prove that Mrs. Bankert has a bad reputation, in order to counteract the strong arguments upon the side of the defense.

Sheriff Zacharias, of Franklin county, was in this city Monday and he stated that he had arrested Norman Cook in 1890 upon the charge of larceny, and that he was committed to the Franklin county jail for 90 days. He says that as far as he knew, Cook had always been in the habit of talking about his relations with other women in a vulgar and vile manner, and he furthermore stated that as far as he knew of Cook's relations with women in Franklin county, that he was in the habit of talking much with-out any reasons for doing so. These statements which are made by reliable parties will help the defense very much in its attempt to show that Mrs. Bankert was justified in killing Norman Cook, when she found him in her house without any member of the family knowing of his so called unexpected visit.

The following editorial in the Indianapolis Star on the Bankert-Cook case is a fair consideration of the facts as presented in that now famous case, and hints that the mantle of charity should be thrown over the deed of Mrs. Bankert, which was, no doubt, committed under great stress and mental excitement, when the animal nature in man is uppermost, and under the mistaken idea that a woman can defend her honor and name by resorting to extreme measures—that she could even kill—without being amenable to the law.

"In considering the Rush county murder case two things are clearly apparent—that Mrs. Bankert bore an unblemished reputation among her neighbors until Cook began to circulate his slanders, and that Cook's moral character was of the worst. The very fact that he boasted of his relations with the woman proved his own degraded nature whether the stories he told were true or not, and the natural presumption of intelligent, fair-minded people who knew her would be that she was lying. If the stories were false, her word in the matter should carry more weight than his—and had come to her ears, the murderous fury of this hard-working farmer's wife, mother of half-grown children, might easily be accounted for when she found the traducer hidden in her house. There is not necessarily any deeply hidden mystery in the affair."

DAY IS PAST

Not Likely That Much More Paper Will be Made From Straw.

The day of making paper from straw in Indiana, according to the Wabash Times-Star, has gone, and the industry will be confined to localities where conditions are more favorable. The mill at Eaton, Ind., is down and has been down for a long time. It is unlikely that the mill will ever be run again upon the product that caused its construction. The same is true of the mills at Albany, Jonesboro and elsewhere. Briefly stated, the failure of gas was the finishing stroke. The Hartford City mill is making paper from old newspapers and rag stock. The Wayne is making a high grade of wrapping paper from rope, rags and old papers. It is said that the high quality of the product of both mills in their lines is certain to find a ready market at prices that will give a good profit over the cost of manufacturing.

HORSES HAVE A
NARROW ESCAPEBig Four Freight Stops Within Four Feet of Horses Entangled in Cattle Guards.

Two horses, belonging to Charles Frazee narrowly escaped death early this morning at the hands of a Big Four freight.

The horses in company with another, broke out of a pasture and going down the Milroy pike wandered onto the Big Four tracks, there they became entangled in the cattle guards. Neither horse was able to break loose and they remained in their perilous and uncomfortable positions for several hours.

About 4 o'clock this morning a freight came along, but the engineer saw the animals and succeeded in stopping his engine at a distance of four feet from them. The trainmen worked for one and one-half hours before they succeeded in getting the horses out of the guards. In getting out one animal it was necessary to tie up each leg after getting it out of the guards and then dragging the horse away.

The third horse, in leaping over a barb wire fence, was somewhat cut and bruised. All of the horses were somewhat injured. They were considered valuable work animals.

WEATHER FOR
SEPTEMBERRev. Hicks Says We Will Have
Frost on September

Rev. Irl Hicks makes the following weather prognostication for September:

The last storm disturbance of August will reach into September, with rain, wind and thunder, with cooler 5th to 7th.

Change to warmer 7th to 8th, with wind, rain and thunder, 9th to 11th. The 13th to 15th will also be storm periods. Full moon on 13th, and moon on the equator on the 14th.

Frost may be reasonably expected, 15th to 19th. Rain and thunder 21st to 23d. The regular equatorial storm-period, followed by decidedly cooler.

Manager Howard Mullin, of the city opera house, today received a telegram from Mace Tounley, manager of the opera house at Crawfordsville, stating that the Cutter Stock company, which comes to the local play house fair week is the best repertoire company that has ever appeared in Crawfordsville.

ANIMAL SHOW
FOR THE FAIRSecretary King Will Secure
One—Cattle Exhibit Will be Large.The Race Men to be at the Fair
—Mrs. Jessup to be Missed.

Secretary King of the Fair Association received a letter today from the Lambrigger Wild Animal Show, asking terms for exhibitions at the fair. Mr. King will do his very best to secure this attraction as it is strictly first class. The show carries a fine menagerie, under a tent as large as that under which the Chautauqua was held. A wild west show with 10 people and 6 horses also wants to come here.

Mrs. C. Jessup, the lady confectioner, will not attend the Rush county fair this year. Mrs. Jessup is carrying a Ferris wheel with her outfit this year, and owing to the fact that the merry-go-round carries the exclusive right to the swing privileges, Mrs. Jessup could not get in here.

Among those who will have race horses at the fair are Clell Maple, Riley Nebro, Hilligoss & Son, Roy Carr, Homer, Ed. Shumaker, Dagler & Son, Dick Wilson & Son, Ed. Lewis, of Indianapolis, George Kellar, of Liberty, and others from the Southern circuit. Representatives of the Rush county fair will solicit speed horses exhibits and privileges at Elwood, Edinburg and Frankfort this week.

Already over 100 stalls have been taken for Rush county cattle only. The beef cattle competition is open to Rush county only. The entire cattle show promises to be the largest in years. The cattle will be judged on Wednesday.

On Wednesday, the Summer band will play at the fair. On Thursday and Friday, the Knightstown Home band will play.

ASSAULTED WITH
A BILLIARD CUELouis Smith, Colored, is Badly Injured About the Head.

A colored man named Louis J. Smith, who is employed by Marshall Hinehman, received a bad scalp wound during a fight in the pool room of a West First street saloon about 7:30 o'clock Monday night.

Smith says that Tom Horr struck him over the head with a billiard cue while playing a game of pool without provocation. He exhibited a bloody scalp wound which Dr. E. I. Wooden sewed up with a couple of stitches.

Smith filed an affidavit in Mayor Hall's court against Horr for assault and battery. The police have a warrant for Horr's arrest, but up until 2 o'clock this afternoon had been unable to find him.

Connersville Examiner: J. J. Cole was down from Indianapolis Sunday the guest of his wife and son, who are visiting her mother, Mrs. Jacob Goodman. Mrs. Cole, who was somewhat injured in the wreck at Rushville last Tuesday while on her way to this city, has about recovered.

Samuel Trabue was at Knights-town on business yesterday.

Miss Aileen Wilson has returned from Cambridge Mass., where she has been attending summer school.

C. E. McDaniel and wife, of Shelbyville, transacted business at the court house this morning.

Mrs. Sarah Thawley and Mrs. Frank Tritt, of Knightstown, were in the city on business today.

STORM LOOKED FOR

When the Supreme Council of the Royal Arcanum
Meets.

A storm is looked for on August 30th when the Supreme Council of the Royal Arcanum meets at Put-in-Bay to determine the question as to whether that order will stand for or recede from the recent promulgation of a heavy increase in the insurance rates of the fraternity.

The increase in rates affects the older members most, and these are literally "up in arms." The Grand Councils or subordinate lodges of many States have spoken and their voice has been a "loud protest." It is claimed by opponents of the increase in rates that it was dictated by the National Fraternal Congress which in turn is alleged to be controlled by the old line insurance companies, which, it is alleged, has singled out the Arcanum as the starting point in planning to wreck all the fraternal insurance orders.

IN INTEREST OF
HOME SOCIETYMrs. Irene V. Webb in the City
Seeking Aid For Homeless Children.

Mrs. Irene V. Webb, District Superintendent of the Indiana Children's Home Society, of Indianapolis, arrived in this city this morning and will make this city headquarters for a week or ten days. The Indiana Children's Home Society is an organization of which comparatively little is heard, yet its work is of great importance. The purpose of this society is to place orphans and other homeless children in family homes. The children are brought to the receiving home at Westfield from all parts of the State. Only normal and healthy children are received, as no homes could be found for those who are diseased, deformed or feeble minded.

The society then endeavors to find families who will receive these homeless little creatures, but no child is placed in any home without careful investigation, and a watchful care is kept over it later until it is certain that there is no abuse or neglect.

Mrs. Webb's mission here is to find homes for some of the children in Rush county, or to receive contributions for the support of the society. The society is not a State institution, but is supported by voluntary contributions. Remember the homeless when making thank offerings.

Fight Yellow Fever.Authorities Making a Brave Fight at New Orleans and Hope to Triumph.

New Orleans, Aug. 22.—Surgeon White last night was willing to give expression to his hope of winning out in the fight against the yellow fever epidemic. He said:

"I feel very much encouraged over the situation, for I believe that practically all the cases are being reported now and we are able to handle them. The low death rate is manifest, and that also is a good sign."

The situation outside of the city is not so encouraging. Surgeon Guiteras made an inspection of the Riverside plantation in Iberville, and his report reads:

"One hundred and fifty inhabitants in infected barracks. Estimated one hundred have had fever. Of these, under treatment, fifty-five. Proper measures taken to avoid infection of the localities around."

At Hanson City in Jefferson parish, eight new cases were reported yesterday. Kenner also reports four cases. The health officer at Iberville reports a number of suspicious cases among Italians on Bayou Plaquemine, twenty miles from the town of Plaquemine on the west bank. Two new cases have developed on Elizabeth plantation in Iberville. St. Bernard parish reports a new focus of infection among Italians near Corinne, two cases having come to light with two more suspicious cases. Patterson reports ten new cases and no deaths.

Getting Back at Him.

The following poem was written by one of the young ladies at the I. & C. traction office. The poem tells very plainly the young lady's feelings toward one Walter F. McCloud, a member of the traction office force who was recently married to Miss Esther Kratzer, one of our most popular and charming young women.

It seems that Mr. McCloud, after he and his bride succeeded in eluding those who had gathered at the station to give them a rousing send-off with old shoes, rice, etc., wrote another member of the office force, to buy two boxes of cigars at his expense. One of these boxes of cigars was to go to the traction office and the other to the car barns, for the men there. Now it so happens that the young ladies at the traction office do not smoke. It seems that Mr. McCloud made no provision whatever for them when he ordered the cigars. The young ladies' sentiments are voiced as follows:

Of all the little, "measley" tricks
I know the shabbiest one—
(And you'll not blame the one who "kicks")
When you learn what has been done.)

First, one of the men got married,
Which was in order, quite,
Our best wishes with him he carried,
But he failed to treat us right.

'Twas this: The morning after
He ordered a treat all 'round (?)
Into tears was merged our laughter
When only cigars were found.

In vain did we look for our flowers,
Candy, fruit, or "shake lemonade,"
Realizing as past sped the hours,
That for us no provision'd been made.

While each I. & C. man had a smoke
There was naught for the girls but chagrin!
To you it may seem but a joke;
We look upon it as sin.

We will "get even"—we've every one vowed
That when we are married, tho' big be the crowd—

Admittance to one man will not be allowed:
We will not invite Walter Frederick
McCloud.

WIRELESS SIGNALS

Alton Railroad Engines Have Equipment That Proves Successful.

Experiments made with wireless telegraphy on engines running over the tracks of the Chicago & Alton railroad have proved so successful that the management of the road has taken steps to equip all the engines of the company with the apparatus.

Under the new system adopted each engine carrying its own wireless signal apparatus constitutes the center of a movable block. Near the engineer in the cab is an indicator which keeps him informed of the conditions within the block of which he is the center. If a train approaches within two miles to the rear a green light shows on the indicator and a warning bell calls attention of the engineer. If the train is to the front a red light flashes and a bell rings. The signals are reciprocal, and the engineers on both trains receive them at the same instant.

THAT NEW DEPOT
AT RUSHVILLEWhat Some of Our Neighborhood Papers Say in Regard to it.

Shelbyville Republican.
As the result of the wreck on the C. H. & D. railroad at Rushville on last Tuesday that city will get a new depot. The old one was demolished by the crash of the heavy engines and the officials have decided to erect a new one. "It's an ill wind that blows nobody good."

Connersville News.
Since the wreck, Superintendent Wittenberger has ordered a new passenger depot for the Great Central or C. H. & D. at Rushville. Of for a monster goat that would come along some evening and butt the old shack here into a pile of kindling wood. Then maybe Connersville, too, would get a new passenger depot that would in some measure reflect its importance as a city and shipping point.

Richmond Item.

Poor Rushville. That city is on the main line of the "Great Central" yet its depot facilities have been so bad for years that the station agent has had to sit at his desk with an umbrella over his head when it was bad weather. The other day there was a wreck at the station. Two trains collided and Rushville's ancient pile of boards was knocked into a fierce-looking heap. The papers announced that after all it wasn't so bad, for now the Great Central would build a new depot. It was stated that "tomorrow morning the site of the old structure will be cleared and work begun on the new."

The next morning came, but the Great Central simply sent a couple of carpenters to the depot site and they proceeded to prop up the old wreck and with $1.20 worth of lumber the structure was made as good as new, excepting from the abrasion of the fresco on one of the inner walls.

Now Rushville is complaining. The people are getting up a remonstrance, which in its preamble states that Rushville is on the map and should be recognized by the Great Central.

The C. C. & L., which is but a branch of the Great Central, can boast of two depots in Richmond that would make Rushville turn green with envy, had she either one. They look like Carnegie libraries in comparison with the pile of junk that Rushville uses as a depot.

A dance will be given in this city on Thursday of fair week.

Earl Stiers is clerking in the "Smokery" during the absence of Theodore Betker.

The Rush county horsemen who have been racing upon the different tracks about this part of the State, will return to this city the last part of this week, and their horses will be taken to the county fair grounds, where they will race during the fair.

AN ECLIPSE
OF THE SUNIs Scheduled to Take Place
on Wednesday August
Thirtieth.The Eclipse Will be Visible at Rushville Early in the Day.

The eclipse of the moon, which took place August 14th, aroused considerable interest in the form of celestial phenomena, and it is likely that the partial eclipses of the sun, which is announced to take place August 30th, will be watched with unusual interest.

In the United States the eclipse is visible east of a line drawn from Galveston through Denver, and north to Montana. It is total in Tunis, Northern Africa and extends northwest through Spain and Portugal. A great many expeditions are being prepared by scientific bodies to inspect the eclipse, as at that time, certain features of the sun can be studied which are impossible under ordinary conditions.

The eclipse will be visible in Rushville from sunrise at 5:28 o'clock until 6:30. In order to see it, therefore, it will be necessary to rise early but the spectacle will well repay the trouble.

One who saw the total eclipse of the sun which took place in 1900, and which was visible in North Carolina says:

"It was a magnificent and inspiring sight, and one which is worth crossing a continent to see. In the path of the eclipse there is almost total darkness, while extending around can be seen the light of the sun shining on other portions of the landscape. The marvelous corona, or atmosphere, of the sun is then visible in all its glory, and the sight holds the spectator spell-bound. It is still largely a mystery, and each eclipse, which gives the fleeting opportunity for its study, is taken advantage of to the full extent."

An interesting feature along the line of eclipses is the immense amount of mathematical calculation necessary to determine the time and place of eclipses. The movement of the three bodies—the earth, the moon and the sun—have to be taken into account, and yet the nautical almanacs published by the government contain the information for years ahead. If necessary, the same could be computed for hundreds of years, for the movements of the planets are fixed quantities and the basis for calculation having been once established, science is able to tell the position of each of them ages in the future."

INTERESTING GOSSIP

On Various Topics From the State Capital.

Indianapolis, Aug. 22.—Attorney General Miller is not prepared to announce himself a candidate for governor. He was asked today if he had his announcement ready, but he slipped out of the hole the reporter had prepared for him. He did not, however, state that he will not be a candidate, and so long as he does not say that, most of the politicians who are associated with him every day feel that he will be in the race. The attorney general declared good-naturedly that it is a trifle early to make any announcements; that if he were to start now the people might get tired of him before the time came for making the final. It is probable that he won't make any statements definitely until after he closes his term as attorney general the first of 1907. In the meantime, though, he is getting things ready for his race, and he is now making speeches to old settlers' meetings and the like with much regularity. Politicians recognize the signs and say that Mr. Miller's announcement under the circumstances will not be necessary. His friends here count on him having the Thirteenth and Twelfth districts solid to start with.

Dr. T. Victor Keene, city sanitarian, who was sent to New Orleans to study the yellow fever situation returned to Indianapolis yesterday and made his report to the health board today. He does not believe it likely that the fever will spread in this latitude, but he advised that precautions be taken as far as possible. It is probable that orders will be issued at once to clean up the city so there will be no chance for infection. Dr. Keene says that the worthless and shiftless negroes of the fever infected district are being deported by the thousand, and that hundreds are headed toward this city. It is said that throughout the South Indianapolis is looked on by negroes as a great place to "head in" for permanent residence. It might be that some of the negro refugees could bring cases of the fever to the city. Dr. Keene says that New Orleans is the safest place in the fever district, owing to the splendid means at hand now for fighting the disease. While there he slept with a fever patient to study the disease.

Thomas J. Brooks of Bedford, formerly one of the Republican leaders of the state senate, while here today, declared that no stock is taken in the charges made by Bob Owens, an amateur detective, involving three men in the Sarah Schaefer murder mystery. Owens, he said, is cunning in his way, but is not well balanced mentally. The majority of the people at Bedford, he continued, resent Owens's efforts to reopen the case by filing affidavits against men who are not believed to be guilty. Owens has not been in Bedford since the day he filed the affidavits. There are a number of police court charges pending against him, and Brooks said that if he returns he will be placed in jail and made to serve time for all of them. He said, however, that any effort to drive Owens out of town would instantly be construed by many people as a plan on the part of the people of Bedford to prevent further investigation of the crime.

Powers Have Not Given Expected Support to President's Efforts.

BAD OUTLOOK FOR PEACE

Russia Seems to Want Conference Prolonged But Shows No Purpose to Yield More.

Japan Is Determined to Stand by Her Demands and Will Waste No Time in Useless Wrangle

Portsmouth, N. H., Aug. 22.—The result of President Roosevelt's effort to save the peace conference from failure remains in suspense. No direct reply to the president's proposition communicated by Mr. Witte has come from Emperor Nicholas, but other advices received from St. Petersburg indicate that the emperor and his councilors are unshaken in their determination neither to cede territory nor pay war tributes. What the president is doing on the Japanese side remains as deep a mystery as ever. Little light is shed upon the visits of Baron Kaneko to Oyster Bay. The Japanese do not even admit that he is their medium of communication with the president. They go no further than to reiterate that Mr. Roosevelt understands their position and that they have the fullest confidence in him. They show not the slightest indication that they have in any way changed their position or are prepared to yield more than they were last Friday when the plenipotentiaries adjourned.

If Mr. Witte does not receive instructions when the conference is resumed therefore, the situation will be exactly what it was when the adjournment was taken on Friday.

Both sides will present their protocols for signature. One side or the other must then make a move or all that will be left will be a brief final protocol certifying that they have reached the parting of the ways and to bid a farewell. But such an abrupt termination is hardly anticipated. Baron Komura, if Mr. Witte has nothing to propose, might present Japan's irreducible minimum embodying the final concession she is prepared to make, if she is prepared to make any, or formally propose collective consideration of all the articles still in dispute. Any move on either side would involve another adjournment or such an adjournment might be frankly proposed by Mr. Witte, as he would not be guilty of the discourtesy of allowing the conference to go to pieces before receiving a reply to President Roosevelt's proposition.

It is safe to assume, therefore, that in the absence of such a reply the conference will be prolonged, and every delay, in the opinion of the president's friends, means hope, faint though it may be. Mr. Roosevelt's object was officially described yesterday as being to "prolong the negotiations."

There is warrant for the statement that Mr. Witte personally sympathizes with the president's proposition, no matter how it may be regarded by his imperial master and the latter's advisors.

Among the Japanese no note of hope is sounded. With genuine reluctance they seem almost resigned to the shipwreck of the conference. They declare that their position is unchanged and they speak of renewing their war with a snap of their black eyes which speaks volumes for their confidence in the success of Oyama when the word is given to advance.

"We have fought for a lasting peace," said one of the attaches closest to the chiefs. "We have been victorious. If Russia came to Portsmouth unprepared to pay the price of defeat, all is over. We don't believe that the president's high or terms unreasonable. He knows Japan's position as accurately as does either of the Japanese plenipotentiaries. We don't believe he will even ask us to weaken at the last moment and yield, even to save the negotiations. Heartily as the whole world desires peace, Japan believes the neutral powers would prefer that war should continue for a year or even two years longer than that Japan, for the sake of immediate peace, should make concessions now and be forced perhaps a decade hence to reopen hostilities."

Uniform Law Conference.

Narragansett Pier, R. I., Aug. 22.—The commissioners on uniform legislation who have been in session here since Friday, adjourned yesterday to meet again next year in Chicago. Plans looking toward uniform marriage and divorce laws were considered. A special committee on the subject reported that the governments of the several states were acting upon suggestions previously made by the conference, and it was decided to wait another year before taking further action. The committee was instructed to collect in the meantime statistics on marriage and divorce.

IN LONDON

Hyde Denies Charges Brought Against Him.

London, Aug. 22.—John H. Hyde, former statistician of the United States department of agriculture, who at present is in London, has been under the care of a physician for several weeks and is still prohibited by his physician from attending to business.

"I have just seen for the first time the revised cotton acreage report, issued by the United States department of agriculture on July 16. The crop estimating board reduces the official estimate of June 2 more than 1,100,000 acres, and even goes so far as to say that I made the estimate lower than the report received from official reporters employed by the bureau warranted. To this statement I give unqualified denial and assert that the most trustworthy of the various sets of figures on which the report of June 2 was based afforded the most ample warrant for my estimate.

"It is only by an entire disregard of the reports of county and township correspondents that the department's acreage reports can be prevented from once more becoming the laughing stock of the world. When concerned only with the condition of the growing crop, except under special circumstances, the reports of county and township correspondents are not without value. When, however, these correspondents report either upon the acreage or upon the size of the crop in bales, their reports are absolutely worthless."

Mr. Hyde said that he gave this interview to the press against the earnest protest of his physician, and that he had forwarded an affidavit to Washington covering his connection with the cotton report. He said he expected to return to America about Oct. 1.

SEES ROOSEVELT

Chairman Shont Visits President and Talks Canal.

Oyster Bay, L. I., Aug. 22.—Theodore P. Shonts, chairman of the isthmian canal commission, who arrived in New York a few days ago from an inspection trip to the Panama canal strip, arrived here last night to confer with President Roosevelt on matters pertaining to the construction of the canal.

"My call on the president," said he, "was neither significant nor important. When I returned from the isthmus I reported to the president by letter outlining my observations and explaining the character of the work being done. Tonight I merely elaborated that matter. We are constantly engaged now in providing for the proper housing and feeding and prompt payment of the employees who are to do the actual digging of the canal. A comprehensive plan for the work of construction is being developed by Chief Engineer Stevens and his assistants. As soon as these necessary preliminaries are completed the canal construction proper may be said to have begun."

Mayor Weaver's Good Work.

Philadelphia, Aug. 22.—The regular Republican organization has taken steps looking to the purging of assessors' lists of alleged bogus names. Mayor Weaver in his crusade for good government, recently made a thorough canvass of the city to determine accurately the number of voters in each precinct. The canvass was conducted by the police and other city employees under the direction of the department of public safety, and at its conclusion Director Potter of the department announced that 60,000 fictitious names had been discovered on the assessor's list. This charge has been denied by the organization leaders, who admit that fraud might have been practiced in a few precincts, but declare there never has been wholesale padding. In order to refute if possible the charges the Republican city committee has adopted resolutions providing for a careful house to house canvass.

Enjoined Registration Board.

Indianapolis, Aug. 22.—Following a temporary restraining order made last week, Judge Buckingham of Johnson county issued an injunction yesterday to prevent the state board of medical registration and examination from meeting to try Dr. John M. Rhodes of Indianapolis on the charge of immorality. Affidavits were filed before the board against Dr. Rhodes by Eva Boyken, who charged him with agreeing to perform a criminal operation. CIGARETTE LAW

Pronounced Constitutional by Judge Welborn at Princeton.

TELLS GRAND JURY

He Calls It Wise Legislation and Says It Should Be Faithfully Enforced.

He Says All Who Have Papers or Other Fixings in Possession Are Guilty of Violating Law.

Princeton, Ind., Aug. 22.—Judge Oscar M. Welborn of the Gibson circuit court, in giving his instructions to the grand jury, upheld the cigarette law, saying that the legislation on this subject is comprehensive and wise, and that the law is valid in all respects. The subject matter, said the court, is one for legislative regulation, and this has been done in a proper manner. The court urged the enforcement of the law. He holds that it is unlawful to keep or own cigarette papers or cigarettes, saying that "if a person was seen smoking a cigarette or having one in his possession or filling a paper with tobacco, whether it be done by a local lounge, loafer or cigarette philosopher, would be an evidence of a violation of the statute."

As Judge Welborn is accounted one of the most brilliant jurists of the state, his interpretation of the cigarette law is regarded with some moment.

ONE HOUR OF GAYETY

Cost a Farmer Considerable Money and Valuables.

Anderson, Ind., Aug. 22.—While he struggled in a crowd to see a girl bicyclist leap the gap at Mounds Park Farmer William Busby was robbed of $230 in cash, $200 worth of jewelry and family heirlooms and all of his notes, mortgages and other important papers. No clue to the robbers was obtained, and Mr. Busby and family went home sick.

Busby relied on an old-fashioned satchel that he carried for the safety of his crop money and other valuables. He said the banks had closed before he could deposit his cash. So when he came to town and followed the thousands of people to the park, he carried his temporary bank. All went well until he got interested in the leap-the-gap trick. Then he placed his satchel on the ground and crowded forward for a better view of the bicyclist. When he returned to the satchel two minutes later it had been plundered and again closed.

Busby did not discover the robbery until he observed that the weight of the grip had been reduced. He could find no one who saw the robbery committed.

Mailbag Mutilated.

Huntington, Ind., Aug. 22.—A railway mail pouch, consigned to Romo, Okla., containing first-class mail matter, both pouch and mail in a badly mutilated condition, was picked up along the Wabash railroad east of this city. Two tramps delivered it to Postmaster Hart. An investigation followed, and it was found to have been lost from eastbound train No. 2. Letters and other articles were scattered along the right-of-way for more than a mile, kept in motion by the suction of the train. At Fort Wayne, twenty-five miles away, the first stop made by the train, portions of Huntington papers from the pouch dropped from their suspended position in the air as the train came to a standstill.

COURT MARTIAL RECOMMENDED

Court of Inquiry Makes Its Report in Bennington Case.

Washington, Aug. 22.—The findings and opinion of the court of inquiry which investigated the fatal explosion on the gunboat Bennington were made public by Secretary Bonaparte at the navy department yesterday. The court expresses the opinion that the explosion was caused by excessive steam pressure in boiler B, resulting from the closing of the valve connecting the boiler with the steam gauge. The court is also of the opinion that D. N. Holland, a fireman on duty, had made the mistake of shutting off the valve. The court further finds that Ensign Charles D. Wade of the engineer department of the ship was at fault in failing to see that the steam valves and safety valve were overhauled at the proper time and kept in good order, having accepted the verbal statements of subordinates that this had been done in March. It is clear that he was negligent in the performance of his duty and should be brought before a court martial. The navy department has not yet acted upon the proceedings and findings.

Bedford, Mass., Aug. 22.—Letters received from James W. GERM DISEASES OF SUMMER

No one Need Fear Sickness if Mi-o-na is Used.

It is the person with the weak stomach who first falls victim to the germ disease of summer.

People with strong stomachs and natural digestion are ordinarily not subject to bowel troubles, diarrhoea, and other germ diseases that are so common and dangerous in the summer months.

A Mi-o-na tablet taken before each meal will give such health and strength to the weakest stomach that the whole system will become strong and well, and so clean and sweet that there will be no chance for disease germs to become active. Mi-o-na acts directly upon the whole digestive system, soothing and healing the inflamed stomach lining, strengthening the nerves of the solar-plexus, and building up good flesh, firm muscle and perfect health.

A great many people imagine that their headaches, dizziness, heartburn, or general drowsiness and weakness is a sign of fatal illness, when the whole trouble is the direct result of a weak stomach and imperfect digestion. A 30c box of Mi-o-na tablets will show by the great gain in health that the stomach is the cause of the poor health, and that Mi-o-na is the only remedy that will drive out all weakness, debility and disease.

Mi-o-na is so nearly infallible in curing the diseases resulting from a weakened stomach, excepting cancer of the stomach, that F. B. Johnson & Co. guarantee to refund the money should the remedy not give perfect satisfaction.
